Remember that then is a word that indicates time or sequence. In all of its uses, then is used when you want to talk about a point in time or sequence of events. If someone is asking when something happened, then is the appropriate word for your response. For example, if your teacher asks you where you were at noon yesterday, you could respond, "I was at lunch then."

And then the other thing was the style of comedy that we were doing was much more realistic. "We're like tightrope walkers, trying to figure out how do we get what the studio needs, and save what we know will work. It takes a lot of energy." I guess that ruled out the Jim Carrey and Adam Sandler types.

Question: "What is the meaning of perfect in 1 Corinthians 13:10?" Answer: First Corinthians 13:10 says, "When that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away" (KJV). The ESV puts it this way: "When the perfect comes, the partial will pass away." The "in part" or "partial" things are the gifts of prophecy, knowledge, and tongues (verses 8-9).
